Rising Stars: Members Inspiring Good

ALA membership means something different for everyone. For some, the leadership skills gained by being active in the Association has encouraged them to pay it forward within their communities.

We want to meet these members and share their story in upcoming issues of Legal Management. If you know someone (or maybe it's you!), please submit this form to ALA's publication team (publications@alanet.org). If it's easier, feel free to just send us an email with more details.
