Volunteer to be a Session Manager.

Here's what a few session managers have said:

*Volunteering as a session manager has been one of the best decisions I've made. It offers me the opportunity to more intimately meet and greet the speakers, which has been a great reward. Getting to know the other session manager on a more personal basis has also led to developing friendships with members across the country. Put yourself out there, get involved and be seen. Sue Bailey, Milligan Lawless

*Volunteering as a session manager has helped me obtain the confidence I need to be able to speak to a group of peers, if I'm chosen for that role. In addition, I have also enjoyed meeting the individual speakers and the assistant managers. I hope to continue to be a session manager as it has truly been a great experience. Diana Akerman, Abowitz, Timberlake & Dahnke, P.C.

Here's all you need to do:

- Assist speaker as requested.
- Welcome the session participants and introduce the speaker(s) – you will receive a short script and speaker bio for your introduction. You will also receive complete instructions via email.
- Remember to wear your Session Manager ribbon.

☐ I am willing to be a session manager for more than one session.
