About the Certified Legal Manager Program

The Association of Legal Administrators (ALA) is the credentialing body of the Certified Legal Manager (CLM)® Program.

PURPOSE OF CERTIFICATION

The CLM program allows a qualified legal administrator to demonstrate, through experience and coursework culminating in the examination process, a mastery of core areas of the body of knowledge identified as essential to the effective performance of a principal legal administrator.

Legal administration professionals must deal effectively with financial management and accounting, human resources management and development, office services management, information systems management, and trends in the legal industry. By completing the CLM process and attaining CLM certification, the legal professional will have demonstrated proficiency in these core areas.

Persons passing the CLM examination should have the depth and breadth of knowledge and management skills that would enable him or her to visit any 30- to 50- attorney law office, review practices and procedures, and be conversant about, and offer advice in, each of the areas listed in the Body of Knowledge without relying on others.

INTERNATIONAL APPLICANTS

Legal administrators in Canada and other countries are eligible to apply to take the certification exam. They must realize, however, that major portions of the examination are based on U.S. federal law.

EXAMINATION CENTERS

ALA holds CLM exams twice a year: once in the spring, and once in the fall. ALA's CLM exam is offered online at Pearson VUE's many testing sites throughout the United States. For more information, see Applying For The Exam on the Certification page at alanet.org.

All approved CLM applicants will receive a unique password and URL to register at one of Pearson's testing locations. Applicants are encouraged to apply early in order to secure their exam location.

Please be aware that there are limited testing locations and seats available and you may not be able to take the exam at your preferred location.

APPLICATION SUBMISSIONS

1. Applications may be submitted online using the application on the certification homepage. Paper applications can be printed and emailed to certification@alanet.org or mailed to the:
CLM Certification Center
Association of Legal Administrators
8600 W. Bryn Mawr Avenue, Ste. 400N Chicago, IL 60631-4600
(See pg. 7 for complete information.)
2. Applications must be submitted or postmarked by the application deadline.

APPLICATION REVIEW AND NOTIFICATION PROCESS

1. Applications will be thoroughly reviewed at the CLM Certification Center to ensure that the applicant is eligible to take the examination.
2. Approved applicants will receive email notification of acceptance of their application, and information on registering for the exam at a Pearson VUE testing center.
3. Please keep a copy of your application materials.

Step 1: Fulfill the Application Requirements

Employment and Experience Requirements

All applicants must meet the following employment and experience criteria:

- I. Applicants must fall under one of the two following categories:
 - A. Applicants who are Principal Administrators or Branch Office Managers
(See Job Descriptions 1 & 2 on page 9.)
Must have three (3) full-time years of experience as a principal administrator or a branch office manager of a law firm or legal department in an exempt level position.
 - B. Applicants who are Functional Specialists
(See Job Descriptions 2 through 7 on page 9.)
Must have three (3) full-time years of experience in a supervisory position as an exempt level specialist in a law firm or legal department in any of the functional areas. A supervisory position is one in which the candidate has primary responsibility for employee selection and termination, evaluation, salary determination and assignment of work.
- II. All applicants must provide evidence of having completed, within the 24 months preceding the date of application, at least ten (10) hours of coursework as described for all applicants. Functional Specialists must provide evidence of having completed, within 24 months preceding the date of application, an additional 15 hours of coursework distributed in areas other than the field in which the Functional Specialist is primarily employed. (See page 5 for full details.)
- III. All applicants shall affirm that they endorse the ALA Code of Professional Responsibility. (See page 11.)
- IV. All applicants must be currently involved in the full-time work of managing a legal organization, such as a private law firm, legal clinic, government agency, corporate legal department or court system, or have been working in such full-time employment within 24 months of the date of application.

Education Requirements for ALL Applicants

Applicants must complete, within 24 months preceding the date of application, at least two (2) hours of coursework in each of five (5) Management Skill Categories that follow. Coursework may be completed in any of the competencies or combination of competencies that comprise the category. A maximum of ten (10) hours can be obtained in interactive, technology-based self-study programs. (See descriptions on page 6.)

Management Categories:

- Writing Skills
To meet the criteria of Writing Skills, it must show how to write effectively, clearly and concisely. It can include Grammar Skills, writing Memos, Emails, Policy Manuals, Proposals, etc. Writing Skills also includes education that provides vital information to creating technical documents as Employee Handbooks, RFPs and Job Descriptions.
- Communication Skills
To meet the criteria of Communication Skills, it must cover communication skills, either verbal or nonverbal, such as effective, clear and concise Oral Presentations to staff and lawyers, Interpersonal and Interaction Skills, Performance Counseling Skills, Body Language Skills, Listening Skills, etc.
- Self-Management Skills To meet the criteria of Self-Management Skills, it must cover how to acquire and/or improve a particular skill that manages one's self and ultimately one's job, such as time management, stress management, (simple) project management, priority management, memory skills, problem-solving, producing plans and schedules, self-motivation skills, resilience-building, boundary-setting, etc.
- Information Technology
To meet the criteria of Information Technology Skills, it must cover the "how to" aspect of information technology. Information Technology includes the features and capabilities of computer network hardware and software systems, including practice support systems, document assembly and management systems, training in the use of computer systems, such as Word Processing, and accessing informational Databases, etc. It also includes important features such as the ethical and security aspects, necessary for rolling out, for example, an extranet.

- Organizational Development

To meet the criteria of Organizational Development Skills, it must focus on developing effective management and leadership skills that lead people, departments and organizations, such as leadership styles and techniques, team development, management principles, and organizational development techniques such as change management skills, coaching skills, negotiation skills, culture management techniques, conflict management techniques, etc.

NOTE: Functional Specialists also need an additional 15 hours of coursework. (See description below)

Education Requirements for Functional Specialists

- Applicants who are Functional Specialists (see Job Descriptions 2–7 on page 9) must complete the ten (10) hours of educational coursework as prescribed for ALL applicants (see page 4.)
- Functional Specialists must also complete, within 24 months preceding the date of application, an additional 15 hours of educational coursework distributed in areas other than the field in which the Functional Specialist is primarily employed.
- These areas include financial management, human resources management, legal industry/business management, and operations management (which includes technology management). (For a complete listing of subject areas, see Content Outline of the Body of Knowledge on pages 12–13.)
- Of the 15 hours of coursework required for Functional Specialists, a maximum of ten (10) hours can be obtained in interactive, technology-based self-study programs. (See Self-Study Criteria on page 6.)

Education Criteria

Please list the courses that you have taken which correspond to the Management Skill Categories on the education worksheet, downloadable at alanet.org/clm/applyingfortheexam or in a similar document.

Each course must meet the following criteria:

- All educational courses or sessions must be at least one (1) hour in length.
- Each 60 minutes of educational instruction can include no more than 10 minutes of introductory remarks, breaks or other non-instructional activity.
- These courses may include accredited college or university coursework, workshops, seminars, live webinars and conference programs offered by ALA or its chapters; the American Bar Association; state and local bar associations; International Legal Technology Association; Legal Marketing Association; American Institute for Certified Public Accounts and state CPA associations; International Facilities Management Association; The Society for Human Resource Management; American Management Association; and other law-related associations and nationally recognized professional education providers.
- Acceptable programs of learning must be intended and designed to maintain or increase the professional competence of legal managers. The program must be an organized continuing education experience under responsible sponsorship, capable direction and qualified instruction.
- The program has a course description that includes specific educational objectives.

The following activities are not eligible for credit:

Social activities; business meetings (chapter or other); roundtable discussions; idea exchanges; business partner or consultant presentations that are product specific and intended to promote a product or service.

Self-Study Criteria

A maximum of ten (10) hours of self-study coursework can be used to meet the education requirements for applicants. An interactive, technology-supported self-study program is defined as a program that uses interactive learning methodologies that monitor learning or participation in the course through the use of software or online technologies.

Technology-supported self-study programs must include all of the following:

1. The program has a course description that includes specific educational objectives.
2. The program requires participant response to questions that test for understanding and provides feedback to participant responses indicating the response is correct or incorrect.

A certificate of successful completion from the provider of the program must be submitted for consideration of any interactive, technology-based self-study program.

Note that recorded webinars have separate requirements for approval as self-study programs.

Video Conferences or Webcasts

Some fully on-demand/recorded education will be accepted for recertification credit only. This includes passive learning experiences such as video conferences or webcasts. These programs must still meet the education criteria, including that educational objectives must be published for the program. See page 4 for more information.

While the (CLM) achievement is amazing, what is more amazing and certainly more important is how more well-rounded I am as a legal administrator and manager as a result of the various study groups and education."

Mark Bridgeman, CLM
Federal Records Officer
U.S. Attorney's Office
Northern District of Illinois
Chicago, Illinois

Self-Study Webinar Criteria

1. Live webinars are considered as regular, live sessions (not self-study).
2. Recorded, on-demand webinars are considered self-study eligible for CLM credit only when they include all of the following elements:
 - Participants can contact the presenter to ask questions and they will receive a timely response.
 - Participation is monitored throughout the program using a system that requires periodic responses from the user.
 - Fast-forwarding is disabled.

What Does NOT Count for Self-Study

The following are examples of what does not count as interactive self-study:

1. Online programs that lack the interactive elements of the self-study criteria.
2. Listening to an audio program that lacks the interactive elements of the self-study criteria.
3. Watching a video that lacks the interactive elements of the self-study criteria.
4. Reading an article or book that lacks the interactive elements of the self-study criteria.

ALL APPLICANTS:

A maximum of 10 hours can be obtained through self-study programs.

Step 2: Apply

Application Submission Options

There are two (2) options for application submissions. Please note, applications must be submitted or postmarked by the application deadline. Applicants are strongly encouraged to apply early to increase the likelihood that they will secure their preferred exam location. However, the preferred location is not guaranteed.

1. Online

Applicants can submit their applications online. Applicants will be asked to complete their application, pay their exam fee and submit their Education Worksheet.

2. Mail

Applicants can submit their applications via mail if paying by check (see page 11).

"Having the certification gives me an advantage in the marketplace that is needed in these tough economic times. If you want to stand out from the crowd, take on the challenge of attaining certification and prove to yourself and others that you have what it takes to contribute to a firm's success."

What to Do/What to Expect:

- Report to the test site 30 minutes before the start of the exam.
 - Examinees who arrive after the exam has begun will be admitted at the discretion of the examiner.
- Agree to adhere to Pearson VUE's Candidate Rules Agreement.
- Present a photo identification such as a driver's license or passport.
- Expect to have your palm scanned and be asked to empty your pockets.
- Complete the exam within four (4) hours.
 - Examinees who complete the examination in less than four hours will be allowed to leave the test site.
 - Examinees are not permitted to work past the time scheduled for the completion of the examination.

Step 5: After the Exam

Getting Your Results

Exams are scored by our independent consultant - Human Resources Research Organization (HumRRO) - who provide each candidate a pass or not pass exam report that indicates, by percentage, how well you did in each subject area.

Once the exams are scored by HumRRO, ALA's Certification Center processes the individual notifications. All notifications are mailed to the candidates at their preferred address.

In all, it takes about four to six weeks after the exam date to receive notification. All exam and applicant information is handled with the strictest confidentiality.

1. Scores are provided to examinees only.
2. ALA endeavors to maintain strict confidentiality of all test results.

Passing Score Determination

The passing score for the CLM exam will be determined using an Angoff-based criterion-referencing process. This process is the standard in the certification industry. It helps to ensure that a test's passing score reflects an absolute performance standard that stays the same, regardless of how well or poorly a particular group of examinees performs on a given administration of the test. Each year the Certification Committee reviews the exam to ensure correctness and currency of the content.

Certification Certificate

When you pass the exam, a certificate and a lapel pin, which display your earned CLM designation, will be mailed to you approximately two to three weeks after you receive your exam results.

ALA Release Form: Notification of Your Achievement When You Pass

Prior to the exam, you will receive a Release Form to complete informing us of who you would like notified that you have passed the exam. These notifications are only sent when you pass the exam.

Failure to Pass the Exam

If you do not pass the exam, you will receive notification via email that includes your exam report which reports how well you did in each subject by percentage of correct answers.

By identifying your strengths and weakness this report can be helpful should you decide to undertake further study initiatives and/or retake the exam.

Remember: You are allowed to retake the exam two times within forty-eight (48) months from the date of your application. The fee for the second and third exam is $259 each. To sign up to retake the exam, contact certification@alanet.org prior to the application deadline of the exam date you choose to retake your exam.

You will be required to send a request to certification@alanet.org including the exam date and pay the $259 retake fee.

Address Change

Your examination score report will be sent to the preferred address you provided on the application unless the CLM Certification Center is notified otherwise. Email all changes of address to certification@alanet.org.

Denial and Revocation of Certification

Certification will be denied or revoked if a candidate fails the examination, or if there is evidence of misrepresentation of qualifications, falsification or cheating. Failure to pay maintenance fees or meet recertification requirements will also cause the designation to be revoked.

Certified Legal Managers whose designation has been revoked for any reason may no longer represent themselves to be Certified Legal Managers, including no longer using the CLM acronym.

Step 6: Important Exam Policies

Maximum Time Period to Take the Exam

The CLM examination is administered online twice per year. Candidates must take their initial and all retake exams with forty-eight (48) months from the date of their application. Thereafter, candidates must submit a new application with full fees.

Reschedule Policy

1. Exams may be rescheduled by request to certification@alanet.org a minimum of five (5) days prior to the scheduled test date.
2. There is a $159 fee to reschedule.

Retake Policy

1. A candidate who fails the examination is allowed to retake the examination two (2) times within a four-year period.
2. The fee for the second and third examinations is $259 each.
3. Candidates who wish to schedule an examination retake should contact certification@alanet.org before the stated application deadline. They will be asked to pay the $259 exam retake fee, provide letter of intent and a copy of their last exam report.

Re-Application Policy

After the third failed examination, or after forty-eight (48) months from the date of your initial application, the candidate who wishes to retake the examination will be required to reapply for the examination, meeting all employment, experience and education requirements as described on pages 4–5, including:

1. New educational documentation
2. Full certification application and examination fees

Refund Policy

1. If your application is not accepted, you will be refunded the examination fee less a $150 processing fee.
2. All other fees submitted for services are nonrefundable, including rescheduling and retake fees.

Requests for refund of the examination fee (minus the $150 processing fee) must be emailed to the CLM Certification Center at certification@alanet.org. Each request must contain the applicant's full name, mailing address and test date. Refunds will be made only to the individual or organization that paid the exam fee. If the refund is to be payable to an organization, the organization's tax identification number must be provided. Refunds will be credited or mailed approximately four to six weeks after the written refund request is received.

Exam Accommodations

ALA's certification examination complies with the Americans With Disabilities Act regulations governing both facilities and administration. Applicants requiring special arrangements because of a disability must contact the CLM Certification Center at certification@alanet.org as soon as possible before the exam date.

All published application deadlines apply to applicants requesting special arrangements because of a disability. There is no additional fee for accommodation for applicants with disabilities.

Policy Statement

Persons designated as Certified Legal Manager are experienced administrators who have demonstrated knowledge of legal administration through successful completion of required coursework and passing an examination. The Association of Legal Administrators, its officers, directors and members do not guarantee or endorse the competence or character of persons who receive the designation of CLM.

Recertification Guidelines and Fees

Term of Certification

The term of certification is three (3) years based on the designated anniversary date and each recertification period is also for three (3) years.

Your anniversary date will be either:

1. June 30 or November 30, whichever is closer to the actual date the exam was taken and passed.
2. Spring exam dates will have June 30 anniversary dates.
3. Fall exam dates will have November 30 anniversary dates.
4. All recertification education must fall within the anniversary dates. Example:
Your next recertification is June 30, 2018. Only education earned between your last anniversary date of June 30, 2015 and your current anniversary date of June 30, 2018 will count towards your current recertification.

Application Submissions

1. Applications may be submitted online at alanet.org/clm/recertify.aspx, emailed to certification@alanet.org or mailed to the CLM Certification Center, Association of Legal Administrators, 8600 W. Bryn Mawr Ave., Ste 400N, Chicago, IL 60631.
2. Applications must be submitted or postmarked by the application deadline.

Maintaining Certification

In order to maintain the CLM designation, a Certified Legal Manager must:

Pay an annual maintenance fee yearly on November 1 except in the year you recertify. Annual fees are subject to change.

Apply for recertification every three (3) years, and pay a recertification fee.

Complete the educational requirements for recertification.

All certified legal managers are eligible to recertify. A certified legal manager does NOT have to be currently working in the legal industry to recertify his or her CLM designation.

Applications for recertification will not be accepted if submitted or postmarked after the established anniversary date deadline.

NOTE: Individuals may not refer to themselves as a Certified Legal Manager or CLM if they are not a current CLM by maintaining their designation and recertifying by the deadline.

CLM Maintenance and Recertification fees
CLM Maintenance Fee	CLM Recertification Fee
$59 Due annually by November 1 except in the year in which you recertify.	$189 Due every 3 years. See Recertification Guidelines.

CLM Recertification Fees and Applications can be submitted online at alanet.org/certification under "Online Applications".

Education Requirements

To demonstrate that a Certified Legal Manager has maintained his or her knowledge, skills and abilities, you are required to:

1. Apply for recertification every three (3) years based on the designated anniversary date.
2. Provide evidence of having completed a total of 36 hours of course work during the prior three years including a minimum of three (3) hours in each of the following subject areas:
 - Communication and Organizational Management
 - Financial Management
 - Human Resources Management
 - Operations Management
 - Legal Industry/Business Management
3. As part of the total 36 hours, you must complete:
 - A minimum of 1 hour in business ethics
 - A minimum of 1 hour in substance abuse

Earn CE Credit

Members and nonmembers can read the article, then log in to take a test (members pay $49; nonmembers pay $69). If you pass with at least 70 percent, you will earn one CE credit hour. The goal is to help CLMs get the credits they need for recertification, but it will also count toward SHRM, HRCI or CPE credit. Click here to start.

NOTE: Substance Abuse and Business Ethics hours are part of the 36 hours of course work requirement. However, the minimum one hour each of Ethics and Substance Abuse can not be counted twice. For example, one hour of Substance Abuse, while likely an HR course, can not be counted towards the three hours needed to fulfill the HR requirement.

Credit for Teaching

Of the thirty-six (36) hours, a maximum of four (4) hours credit can be teaching a course. This credit is for contact time only, and credit will not be given for course preparation or for presenting the same course more than once.

Credit for Self-Study and Passive Learning Experiences

Of the thirty-six (36) hours, a maximum of twelve (12) hours of credit can be earned from:

3. Interactive, technology-based self-study program OR
4. Passive learning experiences such as video conferences or webcasts OR
5. A combination of interactive, technology-based self-study programs and passive learning experience

All education program must meet the criteria shown on p.5 of this packet.

"Bottom line, I was selected for the position because the partners had confidence in my abilities as a Certified Legal Manager. The firm heard about the CLM program and decided when placing the ad, they wanted one to help them take it to the next level."

CLM Retired Status

Current CLMs in good standing who are fully retired from the legal industry but wish to retain their connection to the CLM community, may apply for the “CLM (Ret.)” designation.

Eligibility Requirements

To be eligible for CLM (Ret.) status applicants must:

- Be a current CLM in good standing at the time of application.
- Have recertified at least once.
- Be fully retired from the legal industry.
- Be deriving less than 25% of income from any work activities, including consulting or freelancing.
- Submit a qualifying application accompanied by a one-time non-refundable $99 retired status fee.

Continuing Requirements

- CLM (Ret.) designees are subject to the same code of conduct and same disciplinary actions as CLMs.
- CLM (Ret.) designees must remain fully retired from the legal industry and derive less than 25% of income from any work activities, including consulting or freelancing.
- CLM (Ret.) designees must notify ALA headquarters at certification@alanet.org of any change in employment circumstances that would render the individual ineligible for CLM (Ret.) status, e.g. return to work activities that produce 25% or more of income, including consulting, or to working within the legal industry.

Rights and Privileges

Individuals granted CLM (Ret.) status may use CLM (Ret.) after their name, on social media, in correspondence, publications, speaking engagements and other public mentions to indicate their status as a Certified Legal Manager at the time of their retirement. CLM (Ret.) designees may not use the CLM designation without the (Ret.) suffix, and may not portray themselves as a current CLM.

Reactivation to CLM Status

Individuals who become CLM (Ret.) have the following options to reactivate their CLM designation:

1. If the application for CLM reactivation is made within three years of the last date of being a CLM in good standing, the individual must submit the required number of hours to recertify to reactivate their CLM, i.e., they must follow all the Recertification criteria as stated in the Recertification Guidelines to maintain their CLM designation.
2. If more than three years has passed since the last date of being a CLM in good standing, or if the requirements to reactivate are not met, the individual must reapply for the examination by meeting all employment, experience and educational requirements as described in the CLM Information/Application Packet, and achieve a passing examination score.

CLMs are encouraged to think carefully and wisely before changing to CLM (Ret.) status. CLMs are encouraged to maintain active CLM status by regularly recertifying if they are not sure they will remain fully retired from the legal industry.

The CLM (Ret.) designation is for current CLMs in good standing who are fully retired from the legal industry but wish to retain their connection to the CLM community.

Individuals granted CLM (Ret.) status may use CLM (Ret.) after their name, in correspondence, publications, speaking engagements and other public mentions to indicate their status as a Certified Legal Manager at the time of their retirement from the legal industry. CLM (Ret.) designees may not use the CLM designation without the (Ret.) suffix, and may not portray themselves as a current CLM.

Eligibility Requirements

To be eligible for the CLM (Ret.) applicants must:

- Be a current CLM in good standing at the time of their retirement from the legal industry.
- Have recertified at least once.
- Be deriving less than 25% of income from any work activities, including consulting or freelancing.
- Submit this application accompanied by a one-time non-refundable $99 retired status fee.

CLM Reactivation

Individuals who become CLM (Ret.) have the following options to reactivate their CLM status:

1. If the application for CLM reactivation is made within three years of the last date of being a CLM in good standing, the individual must submit the required number of hours to recertify to reactivate their CLM, i.e., they must follow all the Recertification criteria as stated in the Recertification Guidelines to maintain their CLM.
2. If more than three years has passed since the last date of being a CLM in good standing, or if the requirements to reactivate are not met, the individual must reapply for the examination by meeting all employment, experience and educational requirements as described in the CLM Information/Application Packet, and achieve a passing examination score.
